West Charges Khrush Raises Threat Of War

But Tough Notes Leave Way Open For Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Allies Tuesday warned the Kremlin it is endangering world peace by its proposals on Germany. But they left the way open for negotiations to solve the Berlin crisis.

The United States, Britain and France spoke to Soviet Premier Khrushchev in similar, firmly worded notes made public simultaneously in Washington, London and Paris.

The notes had been dispatched to the Soviet Foreign Office Monday.

Reaffirming their determination not to yield to Khrushchev's drive to oust them from Red-berled West Berlin, the Western Big Three said they nonetheless always are ready to consider "a freely negotiated settlement of the unresolved problems of Germany."

"Grave Dangers"

But they told Khrushchev his plan presents "grave dangers" with "unforeseeable consequences" for shattering peace.

The Allies thus rejected Khrushchev's proposals which would lead to the transfer of control of access to West Berlin to the Communist East German regime. He has said he will sign a peace treaty with East Germany at the end of this year which, he claims, will do away with the Berlin occupation and access rights the Allies say they have from World War II days.

The Western notes had similar views although the U.S. version, at 3,500 words, was nearly three times as long as the other two. The United States was replying to a Soviet memo from the June 34 Vienna meeting between Khrushchev and President Kennedy. The British and French were answering statements received from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Geneva about a month ago.

Replies Coordinated

By common agreement, the American note went into lengthier detail because (1) the formal Soviet communication had been addressed to the United States and (2) this is the first major diplomatic document on Germany-Berlin from the new Kennedy administration.

In their closely coordinated replies, resulting from six weeks of consultation, the Western three basically restated the position they have held on Germany since the end of World War II.

The Western Allies said they favor reunification of Germany by self-determination of the German people. Meanwhile, they said, the Reds cannot force them out of Berlin by one-sided action.

Ohio Amish Group Plans Pa. Settlement

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — A 3,000-acre tract of land in Indiana County has been selected by a group of Ohio Amish farmers for a new settlement.

The land, on which the farmers took an option, is between the Big and Little Mahoning creeks in the vicinity of Trade City.

James W. Kinter, of Punxsutawney, Pa., who handled the transaction for the Amish group, said four families plan to settle on the land next spring. They will be followed by a dozen other families at a later date.

Kinter said the Amish searched for suitable farm land for more than a year to escape industrial expansion in northeastern Ohio.

The Amish plan to purchase an unused school building for their children.

Big 3 Foreign Ministers Will Meet In Paris

Berlin Strategy Huddle Planned Early In August

BONN, Germany (UPI) — Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, and France will meet in Paris Aug. 5, 6, and 7, the West German foreign ministry announced Tuesday night.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano will join the Big Three ministers for one day of their meeting on Western strategy countering Soviet moves on Berlin.

Diplomatic sources in London and Paris said that agreements in principle on a Western strategy conference already had been reached between the United States, Britain and France. They said consultations are under way to finalize arrangements.

The sources said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville will probably meet for three or four days. They then will confer with West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano and with the permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The projected meetings were expected to set the stage for a continuous "planning board" which will be ready for any possible showdown, or negotiations, with the Russians, the sources said.

The urgent Western get-together appeared to have been at least partly prompted by concern that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev may advance the timetable for his moves on Berlin. Khrushchev has warned that he would sign a separate peace treaty—which the Reds maintain would end Western rights in Berlin—before the end of the year with Communist East Germany.

The West had interpreted Khrushchev's latest Berlin pronouncements as suggesting that he would hold off at least until after the West German elections in September and the Communist Party Congress in Moscow in late October.

Chicago Racial Front Quiet

CHICAGO (AP) — An uneasy peace prevailed Tuesday over a mixed Southwest Side neighborhood where frequent attacks by gangs of teen-age Negroes have left more than 20 persons injured. Taking no chances of a sudden widespread outbreak of racial violence, police officials ordered another 50 patrolmen into the violence-ridden Lawndale District where clashes between Negroes and whites have been occurring for a week.

More than 300 policemen have been assigned to the area to maintain law and order around the clock.

Police said there have been no reports of trouble in the area since Monday night.

Attacks on white persons by Negro gangs commenced last week after the mysterious slaying of Matthew Tolber, 17, a Negro Harrison High school pupil. He was shot to death on his way home from summer classes at the school.

Police officials said 78 youths, 13 of them white, have been rounded up since Friday, when the worst outbreak of violence occurred.

Ex-Con Given Lie Test After Blast 'Confession'

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (UPI) — A lie detector test proved inconclusive Tuesday on an ex-convict who said he caused a 1937 Texas school explosion that killed 296 students and teachers.

The test failed to show whether the ex-convict, William Estel Benson, 41, told his story because of 24 years of grief over a dead sister or from a gnawing sense of real guilt. Another test was planned within 24 to 48 hours.

Oklahoma City police arrested Benson Monday night for questioning about a $38 robbery and he blurted out a story of being responsible for the New London, Tex., high school disaster of March 18, 1937.

Harold Woodrum, Oklahoma crime bureau polygraph operator, said Tuesday's test was "inconclusive due to the fact he was not physically or mentally capable of giving a valid reaction at this time . . . he is quite upset and quite nervous."

"We plan within the next 24 to 48 hours to conduct another test, Woodrum said.

Benson's story of how he caused the explosion was, in brief:

When he was 17 and attending the school, the principal scolded him for smoking. Intending to get even with the principal by running up the school gas bill, he loosened the connections on gas pipes under the building.

The gas accumulated under the building, he said, and two weeks after he first loosened the connections on the pipes, a spark got to the accumulated gas and set off an explosion that blew the building apart.

Plane Crash In Which Mrs. Duke Killed

The tail section stands on end after a small plane crashed between two houses in a thickly-populated area of New York's borough of Queens yesterday, killing Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke,

Kennedy, Aides Weigh Possible Defense Steps

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Tuesday summoned his top military and security advisers to secret huddles to help him decide if America is militarily strong enough—and if not, what to do about it.

And on Capitol Hill, Gen. Curtis LeMay, new Air Force chief of staff, urged that the slowdown in production of manned bombers and fighters be reversed to give more versatility to U.S. air power.

Among other things, LeMay told a Senate subcommittee he wants $325 million for another wing of long-range B52 bombers and $448 million extra to push development of the huge supersonic B70 bomber. The general said he also wants to retain 11 squadrons of Air Force B105s with 25 in each squadron, for close support of the Army in combat.

A late afternoon session of the Joint Chiefs of Staff was announced on short order. And Kennedy summoned the National Security Council Wednesday afternoon.

The White House meetings are part of the urgent reappraisal of the nation's ability to face up to new Soviet threats to world peace, which Kennedy ordered 10 days ago. The detailed study undertaken by the Pentagon is expected to be completed by late this week, the White House said.

Exactly when Kennedy will make his decision and announce any steps he considers necessary was uncertain. But action was expected within the next couple of days. The President may give some indication at his news conference Wednesday morning.

The study is aimed primarily at determining if America's armed forces are adequate for conventional warfare in the face of Soviet demands over Berlin and the Soviet's announcement that it is halting a cutback in its armed forces and is stepping up military spending.

The U.S. military chiefs are pictured as concerned only about U.S. conventional, or nonnuclear, capabilities—feeling that the nation's nuclear posture is satisfactory.

The most immediate question being pondered by the Pentagon—and Kennedy—is whether to call up National Guardsmen and reserves. The President can mobilize up to one million, without asking Congress, provided he declares a limited emergency.

Mighty Red Force Rings Divided Berlin

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German Defense Ministry, alert to psychological pressures in the Berlin crisis, reminded the world Tuesday that a mighty Communist military ring surrounds the divided city. A survey said about 67,500 men and 1,205 tanks are involved.

The 11,000 troops of the U.S. and British and French garrisons and West Berlin's 3,000 Alert police, who are armed as infantrymen, are outnumbered almost 5-1 by nearby mobile units of the Soviet and East German armed forces.

But they've been outnumbered a long time and the Russians and East Germans so far have given no sign of closing in. A Defense Ministry spokesman said the survey is "merely a recapitulation of a longstanding situation and should not be over-dramatized."

Tobacco Heir's Wife Dies In Plane Crash

Two Other Socialites, Pilot Perish

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, Spanish-born beauty and wife of the State Department's chief of protocol, was killed Tuesday when a light plane crashed while ferrying her to her Long Island estate. Two other socially prominent women passengers and the pilot also died in flaming wreckage.

Kennedy Dealt Major Setback On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday rejected President Kennedy's request for permanent, unlimited authorizations for military assistance abroad under the $4.8-billion foreign aid program.

Instead the committee voted to authorize military assistance this fiscal year, which started July 1, and next year. It agreed to decide later this week on ceilings for the two years. The President is asking $1.8-billion for arms aid this year in a separate appropriations bill.

Kennedy won a victory, however, when the committee approved his request for authority to transfer U.S. military and arms equipment, up to the extent of $400 million, to meet emergencies under the foreign aid program. This would be over and above what Congress votes in direct military aid.

The two-year limit on advance authority for foreign military assistance was a major setback to the President's request for long-range authority for his foreign aid program.

Still to be voted on is his proposal for a 5-year, $8.3-billion economic development loan program.

The President was described as standing firm on his insistence that Congress authorize the five-year program.

No Trace Found Of Cave Explorers

ORLEANS, Ind. (AP)—Rescue workers floated makeshift survival kits down a twisting underground stream Tuesday on the slim chance two students trapped by a flash flood Sunday might still be alive.

The kits—plastic bags containing candy bars and flashlights—were dropped into the dark waters shortly before an approaching thunderstorm drove the volunteer rescuers out of Shaw Farm Cave.

Quantities of dye were also released in the stream in an attempt to trace its underground course to the surface—possibly Lost River miles away. But there was still no sign of Ralph S. Moreland Jr., 25, Knox, Ind., and Tom Arnold, 25, Peru, Ind.

Although the search was delayed indefinitely by the oncoming rain, some still believed the pair, both experienced spelunkers, could still be alive in an air pocket.

Gromyko, M'Cloy Meet

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko Tuesday received John J. McCloy, the U.S. delegate to Soviet-American disarmament talks. The Soviet news agency Tass said they discussed questions concerning loose talks, which were shifted to Moscow after an inconclusive round in Washington.

At Least Two Die In Collapse Of Four Houses

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — From the ruins of four houses that collapsed into a 91-year-old sewer line firemen and rescue crews Tuesday took two bodies—a boy's and a woman's—and thrust into tons of debris for one other.

There seemed little hope that the third missing person could have survived the disaster which befell a west Philadelphia neighborhood Monday night. Seven persons in all were buried under debris, and 600 or more were routed from their homes. Four of the buried were rescued.

The houses—brick, two stories, built in 1910 and reported to be in fair to good condition—collapsed at 11:15 p.m. as many people in the badly jolted block were watching television, entertaining friends, going to bed.

One resident said: "The house started to creak. Then there was a slow roar. Part of the front porch and living room disappeared. My sister screamed. She thought it was an earthquake. I started toward the back door with her. The floor buckled. We fell down. We had to crawl on hands and knees. But we managed to get out the back door."

One who was trapped briefly related that he heard a funny noise upstairs, went to look, then "the ceiling came down on me." He is Ernest Daniels, 35, who was rescued along with two of his children, Kenneth, 11, and Cheryl, 6, and Miss Nannie Russell, 62. None was badly hurt.

Cheryl lay buried under rubble for nearly three hours as firemen and others toiled with giant cranes and bare hands to reach her. As the rescuers passed her, coated with grime but only bruised, from hand to gentle hand, she asked the stretcher-bearers: "Did my brother get out?" Then she called for her mother.

Brother Kenneth got out all right. The other, Wayne, 9, was killed, as was Mrs. Anna Robinson, 55, a sister of the rescued Miss Russell.

Still missing was Mrs. Robinson's husband, Jesse, 70 and blind.

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan flew home Tuesday after a weeklong visit to the United States that he described as an "unforgettable experience."

Fidel Reported Preparing Anniversary "Surprise"

By WILLIAM L. RYAN Associated Press News Analyst

From Fidel Castro's Havana, by way of South American capitals, come reports these days that the Cuban public is being prepared for a "big surprise."

The date for unveiling the surprise, say these reports, is July 26, the eighth anniversary of the start of Castro's revolution.

And the surprise: The talk in Latin America is that Castro will announce to the Cubans the formation of a single political party—with the participation of the Communist party.

That would be the final step, actually, in turning Cuba into a satellite of the Soviet Union. For all practical purposes, the Communist party would be the ruling party in fact, if not also in title.

There is much evidence to substantiate this report. Sources in Latin America say that efforts to send out dispatches about it met interference from the new Communist-like censorship prevailing in Havana now. But the word is out, anyway, that the announcement is to be made, according to the present schedule, a few minutes before midnight next Wednesday.

The government is preparing a holiday atmosphere for the occasion—which will coincide with a visit to Havana by Soviet space-man Yuri Gagarin. On the afternoon of the 26th, information from inside Cuba relates, practically all work will come to a halt, and holiday will be in force until after midnight. Workers will be told they can make up the time with extra hours of work later on.

House Rules Group Votes To Kill Bills

Most Legislators Believe Blow Fatal; Powell Disagrees

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's plans to spend billions of federal dollars on public schools received a staggering blow Tuesday from the House Ruler Committee. Most House leaders thought the blow was fatal, but one did not.

By an 8-7 vote, the Rules Committee, which controls the flow of bills to the floor of the House, voted to kill three education bills for this session of Congress. The vote reflected the conflict over church and state.

There are ways to move around the committee to bring a bill to the floor, but chances for their success are slim. And, even if successful, the result likely would be only a shadow of the kind of program the President has asked.

Powell Not Giving Up

But Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, said he did not see the Rules Committee action as the last word on school legislation this session.

Powell said he may call up the main bill—providing grants to public schools—under a procedure known as "Calendar Wednesday." This allows chairmen to call up a bill approved by their committees.

But, once the bill is taken up, the House must dispose of it in a day. House rules gave opponents of federal aid to education enough delaying tactics to prevent a vote on the bill.

Three Bills In Question

The three bills: 1. The $2.5 billion program of grants to states for public school construction or teacher salaries. The bill, which would cover three years, is similar to one passed by the Senate.

2. An extension of the National Defense Education Act, which expires next year. The total bill would provide $1.8 billion for science, language, mathematics, and physical education classrooms and equipment. Of this, $350 million would be allotted for loans to parochial schools.

3. An $1.8 billion, five-year program of loans, grants and scholarships for colleges.

23 Of Harlem Gang In Court

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-three members of a Harlem gang appeared in court Tuesday after their capture during a march into a racially mixed Bronx neighborhood in search of a revenge fight. The youths, all Negroes, were among about 60 members of the Harlem Lords gang that invaded the southwest Bronx Monday night armed with knives, bats, iron pipes and clubs.

They were headed for a housing development looking for a gang that had whipped them in an earlier battle. But police intercepted them on the way, and the gang fight never came off.

Ten of those seized were under 16 and a Bronx children's court judge set hearings for Thursday. The others will also get hearings Thursday in Bronx adolescent court.

Two of the gang were held in $1,000 bail each on charges of felonious assault, unlawful assembly and violation of the Sullivan anti-weapons law.

As the horde advanced into the Bronx it pummeled and shoved pedestrians in the way. Citizens telephoned police and eight squad cars screamed toward the site of the violence.

Police said they learned from questioning that the gang had been chased out of a park by a racially mixed gang Monday morning. The Harlem Lords were out to avenge that.

Anti-Castro Army Trains For Invasion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An anti-Communist army is forming in an undisclosed Latin-American location, to train for a new assault against Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, a Cuban guerrilla commander said Tuesday.

Maj. Evelio Duque, 34, leader of anti-Castro forces of the Es-cambray Mountains, declined to say how many men are involved in the buildup.

Duque told a news conference the next invasion would be conducted with more men and supplies than were involved in the April 17 landing, which met defeat.

Americans' Total Income Hits Record Annual Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Total income received by all Americans jumped by $3.5 billion in June to a record-high annual rate of $416.7 billion, Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges announced Tuesday. This new peak was $13.5 billion above the recession low point reached last February and $10 billion higher than the previous record, he said.

New cars also paced a one percent advance in factory sales to $15.7 billion last month. New factory orders dropped by the same amount but Hodges discounted this as a normal fluctuation.

Tuesday's reports indicated that the U.S. economy was operating at a record-breaking rate of $512 billion in the spring, economists said.

In another report, the Labor Department said wholesale prices dropped sharply in June to their lowest level in nearly four years. It said the wholesale price index declined 4 last month to 118.2 percent of average 1947-49 prices in primary markets.

Live poultry prices fell 19 percent to their lowest point since 1933. Livestock prices also dropped sharply and continued a downward slide in the price of farm products that started three months ago.

Hodges told a news conference he was not worried that the business upsurge was generating new inflationary pressures.

Inflation will stay "under control" so long as production capacity is far from fully employed, he said.

Sharp increases in the wage and salary workers bracket accounted for practically all of the rise in personal income, Hodges said.

Six Seized As Spies

GAZA, Egypt (AP)—Egyptian authorities said Tuesday they have uncovered an Israeli spy ring and arrested six persons, all Arab residents of the Gaza Strip.

Eichmann Tells Court He Was 'No Skull Dealer'

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann Tuesday told the Israeli court trying him for the mass murders of 6 million Jews that he refused to supply skeletons of Jews for research purposes because he was "no skull-dealer."

At the same time the thin-faced former SS colonel continued to maintain that he was a minor official who never did anything on his own.

Eichmann appeared tired and drawn on the eighth day of the relentless cross-examination by Attorney General Gideon Hausner. At Tuesday morning's session, Eichmann left the bullet-proof glass box for the first time since the trial opened on April 11 to indicate on a wall map areas occupied by Nazi Germany during World War II.

Eichmann admitted he attended a conference of top Nazi officials which met in the Berlin suburb of Wannsee on Jan. 20, 1942, and decided to exterminate 11 million European Jews.

But he denied that he had any part in drafting the plans.

Hausner ran into Eichmann's brick wall defense that anything he did was always under orders.

"I never gave orders. On my own authority I never did anything at all. It was a matter of principle with me," Eichmann said, bringing a chorus of unbelieving "oh's" from the public gallery.

Hausner showed Eichmann a letter which asked him to supply the skeletons of 150 Jews for the Nazi Racial Research Center at Strasbourg University.

"Someone came to me and asked for skeletons or skulls, I forgot which," Eichmann replied. "I said I was no skull dealer."

When Hausner produced evidence that Eichmann's deputy, Rolf Guenther, had complied with the request, Eichmann maintained that he went over his head to Gestapo chief and SS Gen. Heinrich Mueller and that Mueller gave Guenther a "secret order" to provide the skeletons.

Secretary Rusk's Son Weds Argentine Girl

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — David Patrick Rusk, 20, son of Secretary of State Dean Rusk, disclosed Tuesday that he and the daughter of a wealthy Argentine physician and rancher were married here July 12.

Young Rusk's marriage to Delicia Bence, also 20, took place quietly at the city registrar's office. A religious ceremony will be held here Aug. 24.

(In Washington the State Department announced that Mrs. Dean Rusk will attend the church wedding.)

Rusk said he met his bride, the daughter of Dr. Carlos Bence, in New York in 1957.

Senate Chaplain Hurt In Collapse Of Scaffolding

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, chaplain of the Senate, was severely cut on the forehead and neck Tuesday when a scaffolding around a new elevator at the Capitol collapsed.

The Methodist clergyman told a reporter, "All I know that the scaffolding gave way, and I was knocked down."

He was treated by Dr. George W. Calver, Capitol physician, for a cut on his temple and another behind an ear.

At least four others received minor injuries when struck by the flying wood which covered one of two shafts under construction for two new elevators in the Senate wing of the Capitol.

Strong Support Given Library Aid Measures

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three bills aimed at increasing state and local contributions for public libraries Tuesday got strong backing from the State Library Association before the Legislative Council.

P. D. Brown, chairman of the library association, told the council's Budget and Finance Committee that passage of the bills was essential to meet "rocketing demands being placed on libraries throughout the state."

The bills, if enacted, would cost the state a maximum of $2 million assuming all counties had libraries and met their obligations under the legislation.

The bills were referred to the council by the House Ways and Means Committee during the 1961 session of the General Assembly.

They would establish an incentive fund for library construction, provide for the creation of area reference libraries and fix the state-county support of library operations at a minimum of $1.20 per capita with the overall state contribution amounting to 30 percent.

Several proponents of the bill said an adequate public library system was necessary to insure a proper economic growth in the state.

FINALLY MEET—The two principals in a transatlantic pen-pal arrangement dating back to 1908 met this week for the first time in Baltimore. ## Transatlantic Pen-Pals Meet After 53 Years

BALTIMORE (AP) — A British flag ship entered the Port of Baltimore in 1908 and its chief engineer, Joseph Beech, paid a visit to an American friend, Samuel Curville.

During the brief visit, Beech asked Curville to have his daughter, Lillian, write Beech's daughter, Vera.

The request started an unceasing flow of correspondence between the families which, after 53 years, reached its peak this week with the daughters meeting each other for the first time.

"We talked a lot about visiting each other, but just never did," said the American half of the pen-pal arrangement, now Mrs. Lillian Zink.

"Our letters were really family affairs in recent years," said Miss Beech of Sunderland in Northern England. "I would write to Lillian, her daughter and her husband and one or all of them would write me back."

Mrs. Zink's daughter, now Mrs. Virginia Montgomery, 36, also participated in the transatlantic exchange of newsy letters and pictures.

Senate Favors Atom Research Into Coal Uses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atomic research into uses of coal is provided in an amendment adopted Tuesday by the Senate in voting for construction of an atomic power plant at Hanford, Wash.

The amendment to authorize $5 million for such work was offered by Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

The money would be used to study ways nuclear energy might be applied to improve the coal industry, for research on effects of radiation and temperature on processes applicable to coal, and for study of the use of radioisotopes in the coal industry.

Randolph told the Senate that the effect of ionizing radiation on coal has received but limited study.

Randolph said there is hope that under conditions of temperature, pressure and radiation, coal with suitable additives of oxygen and/or hydrogen can be converted to products of great utility.

'Conservator' Takes Over Loan Firm

BALTIMORE (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan Tuesday ordered the Phoenix Saving and Loan Co. to cease all stock sales and asked for a court-appointed "conservator" to take control of the firm.

Judge J. Gilbert Prendergast immediately granted Finan's request and officials began to discuss details of taking over the $2.5 million firm.

Finan's petition alleged "certain mortgages of said association are on properties located outside the state of Maryland, in substantial violation of applicable law."

The order further charged that Phoenix is "now employing and about to employ a device, scheme, or artifice to defraud and obtain money or property by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations or promises, all of which has or may cause irreparable public injury."

Joseph S. Kaufman, deputy assistant attorney general, said Tuesday's "actions do not mean the company is insolvent," Kaufman said. "It is our expectation that business will continue as usual, although the conservator appointed by the courts will make the final determination here."

Under a new law passed at the recent special session of the General Assembly, Albert W. Ward, director of the Department of Assessments and Taxation which now regulates the savings and loan industry, will act as conservator.

Ward is expected to name a special counsel to work with him in investigating and administering the company.

It was Ward's department that started the legal machinery in motion and resulted in Tuesday's action.

Finan's petition said all of the officers and directors of the Phoenix firm resigned at a special meeting June 23. Bernard J. Coven, board chairman of the firm, was one of the chief opponents of savings and loan legislation which passed the legislature.

Bogus Attorney Lodged In D.C. Jail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Daniel Jackson Oliver Wendell Holmes Morgan arrived from California Tuesday and was committed to the District of Columbia jail.

The 50-year-old Negro is charged with falsely representing himself as an attorney named L. A. Harris and of bamboozling the courts and defendants here for many months.

He was arrested by the FBI in San Francisco on June 6.

Upon his arrival with two U. S. Marshals at Friendship International Airport near Baltimore he continued to maintain that his name is John B. Clark and not Morgan or Harris.

The FBI says Morgan has a 32-year criminal record and that John B. Clark is the 30th alias he has used.

Dunn Contends Hubley Delayed Filing Charges

BALTIMORE (AP)—A delay in filing charges of misconduct sparked differences of opinion on Tuesday between Walter K. Dunn Jr., a suspended state official, and George W. Hubley Jr., his department head.

Dunn, who was suspended as an administrative assistant in the Department of Economic Development, said Hubley had delayed filing charges for over a month while he "was off vacationing, evidently not concerned about bringing my case to a hearing."

Dunn was suspended and later charged by Hubley with giving incorrect information and conduct unbecoming a state official. Dunn challenged the development agency's dealings with a Baltimore advertising agency.

Hubley said Tuesday Dunn knew from the moment he was suspended that charges would be filed. The agency chief said at least part of the delay in the formal filing of charges was because an assistant attorney general was on military leave.

Hubley said he had informed Dunn "I would talk with him at anytime" and added that the public hearing scheduled before the commissioner of personnel Monday was postponed because Dunn and his counsel "were not ready to make their presentation."

Dunn was also notified Monday that he will be dropped from the state payroll July 31 after a two-month suspension with pay.

Dunn said a public hearing would show "who had the taxpayers' interests at heart."

Hubley said he would "let the evidence presented at the hearing speak for itself."

Marylanders Get Delaware Tax Break

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The governor of Delaware is going to give a state income tax break to some Marylanders working in that state. Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said Tuesday that Gov. Elbert N. Carvel will allow tax exemptions to Marylanders earning less than $6,000.

An aide to the Delaware chief executive said the governor is opposed to a full exemption because of loss of revenue on income in excess of $6,000.

Other convention speakers include William R. Burke, national commander from Los Angeles; Charles L. Bacon, a candidate for national commander from St. Louis, Mo.; and Col. Paul H. Griffith, a past national commander who served as assistant secretary of defense in the administration of former President Truman.

Bacon will speak Thursday after a business session dealing with veterans legislation. Both Burke and Griffith will address the delegation Friday. Griffith of Potomac

Man's Disappearance Baffles Authorities

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Anne Arundel County police are without any sound leads in the mysterious disappearance of Sanitary Commission treasurer Orville B. Thumel Jr., Chief Wilbur C. Wade reported Tuesday.

Wade said two detectives have been assigned to the case which first came up when Thumel's wife reported him missing Saturday. The 34-year-old treasurer hasn't been seen or heard from since last Thursday.

Wade said investigating officers have determined Thumel "lived modestly, never drank to any extent and was in no personal financial difficulty." Beyond that Wade said, "it's a mystery."

The Sanitary Commission met in emergency session twice Monday and ordered an audit of the commission books.

Man Collapses, Dies While Digging Well

BELAIR, Md. (AP)—Edward Berry, apparently overcome by fumes, collapsed and died in the shaft of a well which he was digging near here Tuesday. The Harford County medical examiner said there was a possibility the 55-year-old Berry died from carbon dioxide poisoning.

The custom of mounting a horse from the left side originated in ancient times when men carried long swords on their left side.

Twiggstown Club Hears Of RWSC

Twiggstown Homemakers Club held its regular meeting in the form of a picnic supper at Constitution Park, for members and guests. A business meeting followed.

Roll call was answered by members telling what exhibits they will enter at Cumberland Fair in August.

Mrs. Betty Slider, a freshman and club delegate to Rural Women's Short Course, gave a report on the classes there. Her favorite course was a new one on automotive care which was instructed by Professor Guy Gienger, University of Maryland, a graduate of Flintstone High School. The theme of the course was "Know Yourself and Be A Good Driver—Know Your Car and the ABCs of Auto Engines." The class featured lectures, visual aids and actual experience driving with set-up road hazards. Driving skill requirements were correct mechanical operation of car, application of traffic laws and what to see and look for when driving. The instructor tampered with such vital parts as spark plugs, coil, rotors, to teach the class how to correct a stalled motor.

Another favorite course was "Developing Self-Confidence," taught by Miss Dorothy Emerson, former county agent here and frequent visitor. Miss Emerson is now retired from University of Maryland but continues to teach part time at the Baltimore 4-H center.

Mrs. Bernard Baker, a RWSC graduate this year, will give her report at the next meeting, which will be the annual picnic at the home of Mrs. Wade Rice, Brice Hollow Road.

Guests were Mrs. Charles M. See, Linda and Gary Slider, Mrs. John Veach and Sheila, Mark and Joanne, Mrs. Shirley Bennett, Richmond, Mrs. Edgar Meyers, Sally Rinker, James Wilkins and Michael McMillan.

Other club members attending were Mrs. Helen Wilson, Mrs. Edith Bowman, Mrs. Parrin Rinker, Mrs. Charles Frost, Mrs. Stanley Bennett, Mrs. Walter Stafford and Mrs. Hazel Bottenfield.

Hair Brush Doubles As Travel Back Scrubber

A long-handled back brush is a wonderful bathing accessory at home, but inconvenient to carry while traveling. For a handy substitute, wrap a hotel washcloth or small towel around your hair brush and fasten it with an elastic, a safety pin, or a hair clip.

Work up a rich lather of soapsuds on the makeshift back-scrubber, and use it to reach and scrub hard-to-get-at areas. Afterwards, just rinse the suds from the brush which will dry quickly.

An estimated six per cent of all human accidents happen to the eyes.

New Fall Hats Are More Feminine, Softer Looking

The well groomed woman thinks of hats for each hour of the day. The simple trottet for the suit is exactly right; the softer hat manipulated is correct for the luncheon date and an eccentric little hat or coiffe looks marvelous for the cocktail hours.

Midland Club Will Give Demonstration

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller announced that the Midland Homemakers Club will give a demonstration at the Cumberland Fair, and that Mrs. Arthur Evans, Rawlings, president of the County Council, has accepted an invitation to attend a meeting of the club.

The meeting was held in the Midland Medical Center and RWSC reports were given by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Gertrude Smith and Mrs. Pearl Blair. Mrs. Thelma Davis, who also attended Short Course, became a member of the club.

Routine reports were given by Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Pansy Thrasher. Following prayer and the flag salute, the group sang, "Praise the Lord, Ye Heavens, Adore Him." Roll call was answered with floor problems.

A letter from Miss Mary Wise, home demonstration agent, was read concerning the Adult Home-maker's Camp. It will be July 30 to August 4 at Western Maryland 4-H Center near Bittinger.

Enrollment cards may be obtained from Mrs. Miller. The group made plans for tours to Welsh greenhouse, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Celanese plant, and Luke paper mill.

A card of get-well wishes was sent to Clarence Miller, who had an accident on his farm. A sympathy card was also sent to the Steiding family on the death of their mother, Mrs. Marian Steiding, who was a member of the local club. Mrs. Winnie Llewellyn contributed a cash donation to the club treasurer.

Ladies Auxiliary and Firemen of Bedford Road will hold a festival Saturday at 5 p.m. at the fire hall.

Twist Of The Wrist

Here's a novel twist on how to keep cool on dog days. Every time you wash your hands, rinse the soapsuds off with warm water, as usual. Then let cold water run over your wrists, where blood vessels are close to the surface.

That will make you feel cooler and more relaxed all over. Another heat-relief trick is to apply cold water to your forehead after washing your face.

The "apples" of the Bible were apricots. The "aloes" are now thought to have been eagle-wood. A plant referred to as the "gourd" was the castor-oil plant.

A Hawaiian theme was carried out in the decorations for the party, featuring leis for the guests, a cake decorated with a map of Hawaii and jet plane, and fruits and flowers in the same theme.

During the evening plans for the sorority's trip to see a play in Jennerstown, followed by dinner at the White Star Hotel, were discussed.

Hearing Set For Garrett Man

A young Garrett County man will be given a hearing today in Allegany County Circuit Court as a parole violator.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris will preside.

The man, Albert Wayne McKenzie, 23, was apprehended recently by Tfc. Joseph Stakem and Tfc. Milton Hart of the Maryland State Police for several motor vehicle violations.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, said the young man was charged for violation of his parole in 1959.

Mason said McKenzie was convicted February 13, 1959 of a breaking and entering and sentenced on March 6 of that year to two years in the House of Correction. However, the jail sentence was suspended, and the man was placed on parole.

Mason said a bench warrant was obtained for the man in September of 1959 after he allegedly stole gasoline and committed several motor vehicle violations. He also failed to report to the probation officer of the county, Mason said.

Mercury Vapor Lights Planned At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — The Mayor and Council Monday approved a proposed plan by the Potomac Edison Company to install new poles and mercury vapor lights on Main Street from Water to Bowery Streets.

According to Edward Ewald, PE district manager, the new system will increase lighting on the thoroughfare and include 20 poles and fixtures instead of the present 22 lights and 44 poles.

The entire cost of the new installation will be assumed by PE. However, the increase in the city's power bill for that area will amount to $156 per month.

Council also approved another plan for street light improvement which will include Frost Avenue, Mt. Pleasant and Grant Streets.

Robert T. Regester, consulting engineer of Baltimore, attended the meeting and was advised that the city will engage his firm to study the sewage problem here and asked for recommendations.

Water Commissioner James Kenney pointed out that the State Health Department wants a disposal plant for the city to be located near Gilmore so that the area between Gilmore and Frostburg could be added to the system. Meeting Possible On Zoning Program

Richard Winer, chairman of the Allegany County Planning and Zoning Commission yesterday informed the county commissioners that a meeting of the planning group and commissioners could be arranged in the event the county board wished to discuss the proposed interim zoning program.

In the meantime the planning group will advertise the public hearing which will be held Thursday, July 27, at 7:30 p. m. at the Court House which interested persons can attend.

County Commissioner John T. Mason, who represents the county board in the planning group, said there are copies of the proposed interim zoning ordinance available at the Court House for those wishing to acquaint themselves with the regulations.

Following the public hearing the county commissioners will then act on the proposed interim zoning ordinance.

Dwelling Permit Issued By County

George A. Capel, RD 5, city, has been issued a permit to construct a dwelling at a cost of about $9,000 in the Triple Lakes area of Allegany County.

Shell engineer uses stethoscope to pinpoint troublesome noise. Today's Super Shell fights three different engine noises to give you top performance.

Shell scientists use stethoscopes to pinpoint noise. Today's Super Shell, with 9 ingredients, hushes pings, knocks, and rumbles—to give you top performance

Shell scientists are sticklers for keeping engines quiet. They even use stethoscopes to track down mechanical noise. And they blend Super Shell to silence three different engine sounds—including a sinister rumble that can lead to trouble.

SOME engine noises are more than a nuisance. They're symptoms of insidious goings-on in your engine. They can mean that you're getting poor performance. Even heading for expensive repairs.

That's why Shell scientists are such sticklers on the subject. And why they insist that Super Shell's nine-ingredient formula must strike at the causes of three different engine noises.

1. Super Shell fights rumble—a rapid-fire, low-pitched knock that may mean the beginning of costly damage. Fortunately rumble is rare.

But it can crop up when a very high-compression engine is hot, accelerating, and at full throttle.

Hot-engine knock at high speeds is a familiar problem to Shell scientists. They first faced it when they developed Alkylate for aviation engines. Alkylate is now one of Super Shell's nine ingredients.

2. Super Shell fights wild ping—an elusive, sharp knocking that lasts for a few seconds and then disappears.

But while it's going on, wild ping is no friend to your engine. The noise you hear is an actual explosion. It's caused by deposits so fiery hot that they set off the fuel.

Super Shell's medicine for wild ping is a new, improved version of TCP.* This remarkable additive "fireproofs" certain deposits, making them virtually harmless.

3. Super Shell fights plain, old-fashioned knock. Today's formula includes an anti-knock mix so powerful that a teaspoonful per gallon is enough to raise anti-knock rating a full five points.

WARNING:

Don't trust your ears

You could hear rumble, wild ping, or even ordinary knock without being aware of it.

But even when you don't notice them, these noises can be signs of trouble inside your engine.

So if you want to be sure of top performance, play safe and use today's Super Shell.

Its nine-ingredient formula fights everything from "trace knock" through the most sinister rumble.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

- #1 is TCP—for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
- #3 is anti-knock mix—for knock resistance.
- #4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knock."
- #5 is Butane—for quick starts.
- #6 is Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups.
- #7 is an "anti-icer." (Added when cold weather sets in.)
- #8 is gum preventive—for clean carburetors.
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

United Church In A Divided Land

Observance of German Evangelic Day today provides the Soviet Union and its puppet East German government with a ready-made occasion to exacerbate the already tense Berlin situation. That the opportunity will not be missed has been made amply clear. The East German government already has refused to permit 11 special trains to cross its territory in order to carry West German Protestants to a Berlin rally.

Moreover, Communist East Berlin's police chief announced on July 8 that "in the interest of preserving calm and order and to assure peace, the evangelical kirchentag is forbidden in the capital of the German Democratic Republic (East Berlin)."

Even greater harassment may be forthcoming. It is recalled that in an attempt to curtail scheduled Berlin meetings of associations of former war prisoners and refugees, the East German government last September barred all West Germans without East German travel permits from travel to Berlin and barred all Germans not Berlin residents from entering East Berlin (normally open to all Berliners, East and West Germans and foreigners).

Since early this year East German policy has been directed toward splitting the united Protestant Church, which, paradoxically, first came into being after 1945 when German political unity was lost. The Communists obviously would like to set up a separate East German church that would become a tame adjunct of the East German state. East German bishops answered this gambit last February at a combined synod by reaffirming in a joint declaration their determination to uphold the unity of the German Protestant Church across the present political division at any cost.

These Days

Birthday Parties

Up here in the Berkshires, at Tanglewood, in a couple of days, the 80th birthday of Gertrude Robinson Smith will be celebrated by the Boston Symphony Orchestra and several thousand people. Gertrude Robinson Smith created Tanglewood, an altogether new concept in musical festivals. Her basic idea was that a musical festival in this country could maintain the highest standard, not compromising to bring crowds, and at no point reducing it to a bandstand in a park. On the whole, with rare exceptions, Tanglewood has been able to maintain its high quality. There is one night when all hell breaks loose and Arthur Fiedler does a Boston Pops concert but generally there has been no compromise.

Gertrude Robinson Smith will be 80 years old, which is ripe enough for these parts where the aged are numerous. However, there is very little age about Gertrude who has just flipped in from Paris and will undoubtedly spend a very busy summer entertaining and being entertained by the very many who love her and who recognize her devotion to music in its noblest forms. Tanglewood will ever be a monument to her organizational talents which age has not lessened.

Unfortunately I shall not be at her birthday party because I have promised to go to another that very night. And this one is for Lewis Rosentiel who built the Schenley Corporation which sells whiskey and such matters. But he is perhaps more concerned with the economics of the world and the movement of gold and the perils to mankind in fiat money. Often a man's hobbies are more significant than what one does for his daily bread. And this is true of Rosentiel although he likes to give the impression that his major concern is bottles and what goes into them.

Then next month in August I shall be celebrating the birthdays of two men whom I have come to love over the years. One is Herbert Hoover who will be 87 on August 10. I have known Herbert Hoover with some degree of intimacy for close to 30 years and during recent years I have lunched with him once a week, gathering from him such knowledge and wisdom as only an encyclopedic mind and broad experience as his can possess.

Back in such years as 1933 and 1934, Hoover was deeply depressed. He was sensitive to the bitter and unjust attacks on him and perhaps by the fact that so many who owed their careers and perhaps fortunes to him, cut themselves off from him. However, time passed and Herbert Hoover went to work, turning out book after book, studying current conditions, travelling about the world on food problems, heading two commissions for the organization of the Executive branch of government and finally undertaking the massive research in the foreign policy of the United States since 1933—a task that will probably take him another year or two.

Buoyant, gay, full of the zest of life, Herbert Hoover is today a more exciting personality than he was when he was President. He has grown into a philosophic historian whose wisdom is above and beyond party. He is today the prototype of the American, born in poverty, on a farm in Iowa, working his way through college, becoming one of the country's leading engineers, and, having made his fortune and given the recognition and opportunity, devoted the rest of his life to public service.

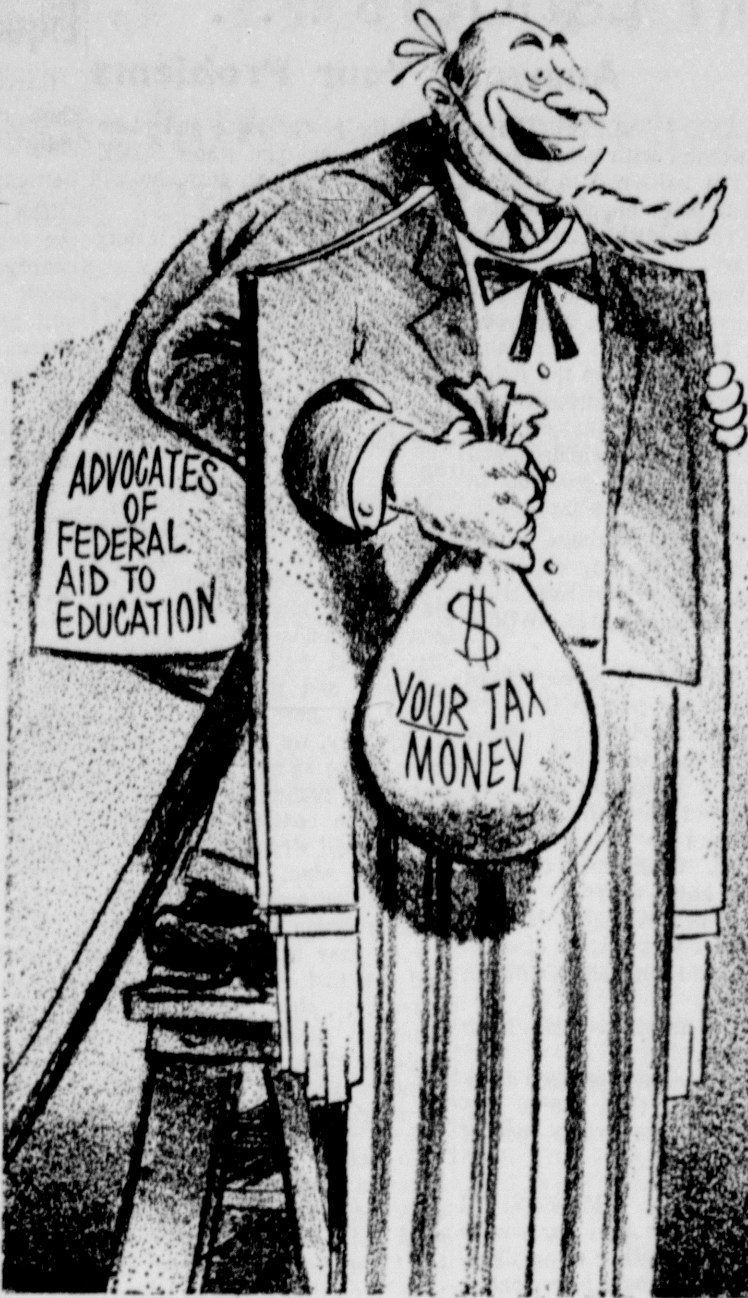

Everyone says that it is so remarkable that Herbert Hoover has lived long enough to see the day when he is again recognized by his people as a beloved figure. But it does not matter to Herbert Hoover how long he has lived. What concerns him most is that there is so much left to do.

And then a few days later, many will recall kindly the birthday of that amazing personality, Bernard Baruch, who at 91 sits about discussing the affairs of the world in intimate detail, whose colossal memory is always a shock to younger men who remember so little. Bernard Baruch has lived long and he has served his country well.

His father, a Polish Jew, settled in Charleston, South Carolina where, as a physician, he served in the Confederate Army. Bernie's mother came of a family that had been in the United States several centuries. After the Civil War, the family moved to New York City where Dr. Baruch did the best he could to eke out a living for a large family. Bernard went to what is now the City College which made no charges. He has repaid the city a thousand-fold for his education. He became a stock broker, earned a large fortune and when opportunity came in 1917, he entered upon a career of devotion to his country.

Baruch is often called "advisor to Presidents"—a meaningless title. His true greatness is that he has served his countrymen honorably and truthfully and has given the people sound economic advice.

Curtain Goes Up On Last Act In Berlin Crisis

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON
The curtain has gone up on the last act of the portentous, complex and fairly agonizing internal drama, which the Berlin crisis has caused within the Kennedy Administration. The public is not admitted, of course, but one can sense the extreme edginess generated by the swift approach of the moment of decision.

The last act's first scene was clearly the White House meeting last Thursday, at which the President reviewed progress made to date. The result of the meeting was a tentative agreement on most of the points in the Berlin balance sheet, which was prepared by former Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson some weeks ago at the President's request.

This means a tentative decision to adopt what may be called the hard line. It foreshadows major measures of military preparedness, since the Soviets have been threatening war if their grab for Berlin is opposed. It presages a major effort to make plain to Khrushchev, in all possible ways, that the risk of a grab for Berlin is vastly greater than he seems to imagine as yet.

This tentative decision may still be reversed, however, because of something else that happened, seemingly at the same White House meeting last Thursday. The opponents of the hard line were requested to come up with a specific program of intended action, for study by the President.

The stronghold of doubt about the hard line is in the State Department. The department's legal advisor, Abram Chayes, one of under-Secretary of State Chester Bowles' appointees, is an active figure in the group. The others are less easy to identify. Yet it cannot be excluded that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will eventually endorse their program, if they can succeed in preparing a reasonably convincing one.

Rusk is known, at any rate, to be impressed by the risks of "political escalation"—another use of that unpleasant word. In more old-fashioned English, the Secretary is apprehensive about the consequences of increasing the emotional tension, the prestige-commitment, the general explosive content of the dispute about Berlin. All this will almost unavoidably happen if the hard line is finally adopted.

Whatever Rusk's place in the line-up, the opponents of the hard line can also count on some significant support on the President's personal team. On certain of the team-members, wholly dedicated to the President's success, the Cuban failure has left lasting scars. In particular, they pick up their ears when they hear the President advised to "be bold." And they give opposition to the hard line on Berlin a more sympathetic hearing, because almost all the opponents belong to the type of official who was skeptical about Cuba.

Meanwhile, the Pentagon seems to be solid for the hard line from Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara downwards. There is another important group in the State Department that strongly endorses the Acheson-prepared balance sheet; and this group includes such able and influential professionals as Deputy Under-Secretary Alexis Johnson and As-

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

GOP IS OPTIMISTIC — A little more than a year from now, partisan political activity will be stepped up as the nation enters the 1962 Congressional campaign. At stake will be all of the seats in the House of Representatives and one-third of those in the Senate.

Republicans are looking forward to the period with keen anticipation; Democrats are apprehensive and concerned. The reason can be found in modern-day political history. In every off-year election since 1934, the party out of political power has picked up seats in Congress.

At present, both Houses of Congress are under Democratic control by wide margins. There is no chance that the Republicans can win enough Senate seats to take political control of that body. The House is another matter. Republicans must pick up 45 seats to win control, and publicly, at least, they claim they can.

For a party that was defeated in the 1960 Presidential election, the Republicans are a happy, optimistic group. They think there is a swing toward conservatism among the electorate, and that they will benefit politically.

The Republicans point to conservative movements among the nation's youth — first time voters — and the failure of the Kennedy administration to stir much enthusiasm in this sector of the voting public.

On the other hand, Democrats seem not to have profited from their 1960 victory. They are pessimistic about the future and some are deeply concerned about the off-year election swing. At least one of their number believes, however, that it won't happen.

He argues that the extremely narrow margin of victory in 1960 means that the Democrats took their 1962 reverses two years early, and that they'll pick up seats — and votes — next year.

Use Common Sense In Treating Snakebite

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A little knowledge may be a dangerous thing, especially when it comes to treating snakebite. We have been taught to apply a tourniquet, make incisions at the site of the bite, apply ice packs, and rush the victim to the hospital for antivenin. These measures are lifesaving by helping to retard absorption or ridding the body of snake venom.

But our inherent fear of snakebite has created many hysterical woods surgeons. The skin is mutilated by cutting and sucking before it occurs to the rescuer that the snake may not be venomous. Others become so panicky they go to extremes without considering the size and type of the snake.

Large venomous snakes, especially rattlesnakes, are dangerous but only a few deaths of healthy adults have been reported from bites by pigmy rattlers or copperheads. Even the bite of the cobra is somewhat overrated.

Use common sense and don't go wild when medical aid is available within an hour. A tourniquet must be applied properly or it does more harm than good; if it is left on too long, the tissues are damaged. To reach the venom, the incision must be at least as deep as the fangs.

A group of Galveston plastic surgeons have seen many adverse effects from overzealous first aid. They reported to the American Association of Plastic Surgeons that the widely accepted methods of treating snakebite should be reconsidered. Six out of eight patients admitted to the Galveston hospital shortly after being bitten recovered without damage to the skin or soft tissues.

Hospitalization was delayed in a group of 10 and considerable plastic surgery was needed to restore the function of injured hands and feet. A 19 year old required 10 operations. amputation was needed in others. Remember this before you start slashing the snakebite victim's extremities.

TOMORROW: Chronic hepatitis.

Press Conference On Cuba Behind Impending Exit Of Chester Bowles

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Here is a tell-tale clue as to what's behind the impending exit of Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles, former governor of Connecticut, Ambassador to India, and wartime price administrator. Bowles was an early Kennedy supporter but got in the dog house when he leaked word to the press after the Cuban fiasco that he had been against it.

President Kennedy was talking to a friend about the incident.

"I don't know what's the matter with this guy Bowles," he said. "I asked him several times about the Cuban operation and he was for it. Then he holds a press conference and says he didn't know anything about it."

"After the working-over Bobby gave him, I thought he'd resign, but he hasn't," the President added.

What President Kennedy referred to was a conversation his brother, the Attorney General, had with the Undersecretary of State which one eyewitness described as "explosive."

"Bowles," Bobby stormed, thumping the Undersecretary of State on the chest. "You're no damn good. You know you were consulted about the Cuban operation and you said to go ahead with it. Now you've leaked a story to the press that you were against it."

"You're no damn good," concluded the Attorney General.

Pakistan Problem

The son of the bugler in the old Indian army, Mohammed Ayub Khan, has now departed. But his words, given in clipped British accent, as he stood before Congress with clipped British moustache, are still being quoted by usually hard-boiled members of the U.S. House and Senate. They liked the way the President of Pakistan called a spade a spade in demanding foreign aid.

But words are not everything, and their manner of delivery does not make or unmake policy. For behind the scenes, when President Kennedy and President Ayub got down to the short holds that must come during any diplomatic negotiation, things were not as salubrious as during that candlelight dinner at Mt. Vernon.

Behind the perfect English and the charming demeanor of Mohammed Ayub, here are some of the unfortunate factors which Kennedy had to wrestle with:

Unfortunate Factor No. 1 — President Ayub has given Soviet Russia a concession to explore for oil throughout Pakistan. This means Red geologists can roam all over the country locating the secret radar stations from which the U.S. Air Force tries to observe Soviet operations across the Himalayas.

U.S. oil companies did their best to find oil in Pakistan; failed. It wasn't there. Despite this Ayub turned to Russia.

Unfortunate Factor No. 2 — Along with the oil concession, President Ayub gave Russia certain rights to submit textbooks and use teachers in Pakistani schools. As yet, this is not extensive, but it's an entering wedge which could grow.

Unfortunate Factor No. 3. — President Ayub wants free arms for the Pakistani army; no arms for India. What he didn't mention was that U.S. arms to Pakistan ricochet as dangerously as a bullet fired on a crowded sidewalk in New York.

First they are used for maneuvers against the Afghans in the north. This in turn brings MIG 17's and Ilyushin bombers plus truck caravans of Russian arms across Afghanistan to the Pakistan border. Afghanistan is trying to stay neutral, accepts educational aid from the University of Wyoming and highway-airport aid from the U.S. technicians. But faced with the U.S. equipped Pakistani army in the south, it imports from Moscow.

Second, Russian arms in Afghanistan worry the Iranians, and the Shah of Iran asks the USA for more arms. When I was in Teheran last year he complained bitterly to me about this. This means more arms from us and more drain on the budget.

Third, U.S. arms to Pakistan cause India to import more arms. While the Indians don't get arms free, we in turn give credits in food of several million dollars, which relieve the Indian treasury so it can afford to buy arms.

Thus ricochet U.S. Arms which the austere tough-talking president of Pakistan says he wants from us.

Unfortunate Factor No. 4 — There was a time when the U-2 flights from Pakistan over Russia may have made military aid to Pakistan worthwhile. But since Central Intelligence and the Eisenhower Administration sent Francis Gary Powers over Russia at the most inopportune of all times — just before the summit conference — there have been no more U-2 flights. President Ayub is just as fearful of Russian threats as other U.S. allies.

Unfortunate Factor No. 5 — President Ayub runs just as tight a dictatorship as Fidel Castro. It's friendly to us, of course, and on the whole it's benevolent. But there is no freedom of the press, no parliamentary government, no civil liberties. You can get arrested for playing your radio too loud, or for changing the oil of your car on the side of the road. It's honest and efficient, but it's a dictatorship just the same. Meanwhile, nearby India, which Ayub wants us to boycott, operates one of the few democracies in Asia.

Those were some of the backstage factors which the Senators who praised Ayub didn't know about, but which President Kennedy had to wrestle with.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The trouble with being a newspaperman is that, in time, it makes a schemer and part-time politician out of what used to be a good cub reporter. I'm in the craft 32 years and I'm working more angles than a drunken carpenter. Right now, I'm plotting a honeymoon.

Plotting is the word. I was married on May 19th and I've been busy writing a book about the Peel Case and writing columns, so I haven't had time to think of taking Kelly any further than the nearest unemployment office. She is a thirtyish woman with a bun of honey hair on the back of her head and the regal attitude of a brand new Miss America returning home and seeing her high school boyfriend at the station.

She hasn't mentioned honeymoon. It is a new, subliminal way of getting the idea across. You just don't mention it, and the first thing you know, he's thinking of it. He may not be thinking much of it, but he's thinking. And the more he thinks, the brighter she smiles.

So one morning I phoned Frank Conniff at the Hearst office and Tommy Thompson at King Features and asked them if they would like a series of articles from me. Not columns. A special series. They listened and said "All right."

I got off the phone and said to Kelly: "We're going on a honeymoon in August." She arched one curved brow up to the hair lines. "Yes?" she said. "Where to?"

"Berlin," I said. The brow came down like a piano off a roof. "Berlin?" she said. I nodded happily. "Berlin," I said. "It's a city in Germany." There was a silence. She looked hopeful. "This isn't the place that the Russians are threatening to take any minute, is it?"

"The very place," I said. So I went ahead with my plans, happy in the knowledge that, by combining business with pleasure, part of the trip will be on the expense account. She restrains her enthusiasm admirably. Once she said: "What's the matter with Washington?" I thought it over and said: "I give up. What's the matter with it?"

I phoned Joe Le Tourneau at Allitalia. He said his airline doesn't go into Berlin, but he'll fly us to London and make a novena. I said that, after I research my story, I'd like to go to Vienna and Rome and maybe

Madrid. "Fine," he said, "but Berlin in August 1961? It's like honeymooning in Warsaw in August 1939."

Joke. About as funny as that one about the beatnik helping the nun across the street. She said thanks. "That's all right," he said. "Any friend of Zorro's is a friend of mine."

What's the matter with Berlin? Politically and militarily, it's warm right now, but it's been warm a long time. I would like to go there and see it and talk to the people and find out how they feel about the daily threat of extinction. Also, I would like to talk to some East Germans and find out why they want it so desperately.

My lawyer, Harriet Pilpel, was kind enough to wish me a good assignment and to remind me that the old will is getting older. Why not a new one before I leave. Funneece? My agents, MCA, phoned to say that pending T.V. contracts could wait until I get home, if I get home. Hysterical.

Our only real problem was Kelly's two beautiful daughters: Karen, 8, and Kathleen, 6. These are the sweetest cherubs, and they will probably stay with their dad, Ray Stone. The transfer of toys alone may take two days. They have them hidden in every room in the house, and a few nights ago, when I tried to slip into bed quietly, I learned what a Barby Doll is.

Of course I had to let Big John know about the trip. In my family, you tell father first. He takes a dim view of these things, but he also has a rich sense of humor. Some years ago, I bought a 14-foot couch to fit around a fire place and he said "That would be great for a timid couple."

I told him about the trip to Berlin and he nodded. "Let me get you straight," he said. "This is a honeymoon trip, right?" I said right. "You're going to Berlin?" I said yes. He nodded again.

"Can I tell you something?" he said. Sure, I said. "You won't get mad?" he said. "No," I said. "Ever hear of a guy named Eichmann?" he said.

Certainly, I said. "He was hiding in Buenos Aires for years. He could have surrendered in Berlin at any time. When the chips were down, he picked Jerusalem."

HOLLYWOOD — The Hollywood friends and admirers of Judy Garland will get an opportunity to see the sensational one-woman show she put on at Carnegie Hall, when she opens at the Hollywood Bowl Sept. 16th. Freddie Fields, who made the deal, tells me that it will be the same two hour show, which will offer one of the most enchanting events ever presented anywhere.

There will be forty-two musicians for Judy, and to see the relaxed, poised Judy pouring out the songs we all love to hear her sing with that God-given voice, is a treat that no one will want to miss.

I suppose contrast is the spice of movie casting and the calm and reposeful Eleanor Parker and the electric James Cagney who are teamed in "The Park Avenue Story" for producer-director Richard Donner fit into that category. Donner just finished directing Frank Sinatra's "X-15" picture.

"Park Avenue Story," an original by Peter Barry and Bob Kaufman, is about a high fashion designer who operates a select gown salon which is right in the path of a block-busting promoter who wants her property for a skyscraper.

Eleanor recently did "Madison Avenue" for 20th—and sometime early in '62, she'll move over to "Park Avenue." The picture awaits Cagney's finishing "one, two, three" for Billy Wilder in Europe.

That busy Joe Levine did a lot of signing while he was in town and one contract that interests me greatly is one he made with Dimitri Tiomkin and Jimmy McHugh to collaborate the music for "The Wonders of Aladdin," the Donald O'Connor motion picture.

Jimmy and Dimitri will collaborate on the music and Ned Washington will write the lyrics. That trip ought to turn out some real stuff—in fact I won't speak to any of the three of them if they don't do a top musical score—with all that talent they should.

If Steve Cochran can capture the real Tom Mix, that eccentric cowboy millionaire, "The Tom Mix Story" which Steve plans to make should be a very interesting movie.

Steve expects to start the Mix epic the middle of October. He says he has already conferred with one of the widows but he has no worries about relatives because this story is in public domain.

There's never been a character like Tom, who had his name in huge letters on his house, his car was blazoned with big initials. I remember so well a party he gave in his honor — I still have photographs from it. I was the only woman there and he had a throne set up for me and did I love it!

Haya Harareet, who is back from making pictures in Rome and England and a visit to her home in Israel, said she had a letter from her mother asking to be enlightened about a report in an Israeli paper that Haya and Jack Clayton, British director, are going to be married.

"Well, are you?" I queried.

Haya said that although she and Clayton saw a great deal of each other while she was abroad he is still not divorced from his long estranged wife. He will not return here until he completes his British movie in mid-August, so maybe we'll know more about it then.

With hair so short that it changes her complete appearance, and with an entire new outlook on life, Piper Laurie is back from New York. Two years ago Piper picked up and went to New York, and I must say she's done very well there.

She is in Hollywood now to do "The Last Pair Alive," a TV show for Stanley Rubin on GE Theatre. It's an offbeat, deglamorized role, that of a pioneer Amish of the 1700's in frontier Pennsylvania.

Piper's last assignment in New York was "The Hustler" with Paul Newman and Jackie Gleason. I had heard that she and young director John Frankenheimer were a big duo, but now I am told it's an actor who has Piper's attention.

The first Russian attempt to capture Constantinople was in 860 when a Russian fleet unsuccessfully raided the city.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a married woman with young children and I'm ashamed to discuss my problem with anyone because it sounds so childish. I am afraid of the dark.

select the proper time and place, and insist that you know SOME-THING is bothering him, he will probably tell you.

Your generosity of spirit is magnificent. Good luck.

When my husband goes away on a business trip I'm a nervous wreck. I lock all the doors and windows. I try to keep the lights on at night but it interferes with my sleep. The thing that disturbs me most is that the children will sense my fear and grow up to be the same kind of a fraidy cat.

Do you think perhaps something happened in my childhood that has made me like this? What can I do about it?—WORN OUT

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It is more than likely that your fear of the dark stems from a childhood experience. Try the following:

1. Have a locksmith check all the doors and windows.
2. Ask him to install an additional lock (bolt-type) on both front and back doors.
3. Keep bright lights burning above both doors (lights discourage intruders) and sleep with an eye-mask.
4. Get a mild sedative from your doctor.
5. If this does not produce satisfactory results then see a psychiatrist and get to the root of your trouble.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I learned recently that our son is to become the father of an illegitimate baby in about four months. I found the letter in his coat pocket.

He is 23 and a law student. The girl just completed her junior year at the same university. There was no hint of love or marriage in the girl's letter, which made me sick.

The girl's parents are going to see her through, and apparently my son plans to do nothing. He has no money of his own. We are financing his education. Both my husband and I feel he has an obligation to repay the girl's parents and that he should offer to do so.

I want to write to the girl and offer her our love and understanding. I also would like to contact her parents and let them know how we feel. The problem is, Ann, I'm afraid my son would never forgive me for reading his mail. He has been very quiet and uncommunicative for several days.

My heart aches for these young people and I don't know what to do. Please help me decide.—Z. X. Y.

DEAR Z. X. Y.: Tell your son you are concerned because he has not been himself lately. If you

Mickey Hits Pair To Tie Maris At 35

McClain Is Victim, Arroyo Hurling 36th Game, Picks Up Win

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mickey Mantle belted two home runs Tuesday night to tie teammate Roger Maris for the Major League lead with 35 and pace the first-place New York Yankees to a 5-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

Mantle's first homer off starter Joe McClain came in the first inning, after Bobby Richardson had doubled, and struck some 80 feet high off the right-field light pole. His second, also off McClain, came with the bases empty and broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth.

Gene Green of the Senators hit a two-run homer off Yankee starter Ron Sheldon in the third to tie the score. The Senators went ahead in the sixth when Danny O'Connell singled, moved up on a wild pitch, and scored on Gene Woodling's double.

The Yankees tied it at 3-3 in the seventh. Singles by Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron, plus a walk to pinch-hitter John Blanchard, filled the bases. Pinch-hitter Hector Lopez fled deep to center, Berra scoring after the catch.

After Mantle's homer in the eighth broke the tie, the Yankees added a final run in the ninth on singles by Elston Howard, Billy Gardner and Richardson.

Arroyo Is Victor

Nile Shuck outduelled Glenn Kaufman to give the Celane A.A. a 2-0 decision over Ritter's A.C. yesterday at Campobello in the best game played in the Rocking Chair League.

Three teams moved into a deadlock for second place as the result of the Celane triumph coupled with the Loyd Order of Moose team's fourth straight victory over C.&P. Telephone Company at Statcher Field, 7-1.

Celane, Ritter's and the Moose are involved in the three-way tie with 11-7 records each. Four games back of the V.F.W. tossers, who downed Pittsburgh Plate Glass at Post Field by the score of 4-2.

In the fourth game of the day, the Knights of Columbus moved into the 500 circle by downing the B.P.O. Elks at Fort Hill to the tune of 4-1.

Shuck Posts 10th Win

Shuck became the league's first 10-game winner this season by tossing a one-hitter and whiffing six batsmen. The only hit he yielded was credited to Jim Poland in the second inning.

Ozzie Nelson's single with the bases loaded produced the Silkmens' first tally in the second inning while Glenn Burke's infield out with three aboard in the fifth gave Celane its final tally.

Bill Ware obtained two of the winning team's eight hits and Joe Wolfe's double was the game's only extra base hit. The loss was the sixth for Kaufman, who has won nine games.

Pete Elliott (7-2) fired a three-hitter as the V.F.W. scored their 15th win in 18 outings.

Durbin Socks Homer

Ted Durbin blasted a two-run homer in the third inning when the Vets scored three to sew up the decision. Jim Eckard collected a double and single and Sam Brady also had two hits. Thompson's double was among the Glassmen's three blows. Bill went the route for PPG and suffered his eighth loss against seven triumphs.

Pitching his first game since June 27, Dick Klavuhn checked in with a four-hitter against the Phonemen and notched his sixth win of the campaign.

St. Louis Wins Over Cubs, 8-3

Jackson Is Victor In Opening Battle

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Larry Jackson pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to an 8-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs as the Red Birds chalked up their third straight win in the first game of a two-night doubleheader Tuesday night.

Jackson held the Cubs to three runs on eight hits in going the distance for his fifth win. He has lost eight. It was Jackson's second victory over Chicago this season. He struck out five and allowed no walks.

Ken Boyer provided most of the batting punch with two singles and a home run good for three RBIs.

St. Louis nicked Hobbie, who has given up more home runs than any other Chicago pitcher, 23, for four runs in the sixth inning. White's and Boyer's successive home runs were the key blows.

Joe Cunningham hit a homer in the first inning and Al Heist had one for Chicago in the fifth.

Hobbie was charged with his tenth loss to go with seven victories. He worked six innings.

Geiger Clouts Two Home Runs, Bosox Win, 9-2

Don Schwoll Posts 9th Win Of Season

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Gary Geiger hit two homers and drove in four runs Tuesday night in leading the Boston Red Sox to a 9-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Geiger connected in the first inning after Chuck Schilling had singled and he repeated in the third after Schilling had singled again. It gave Geiger 13 homers for the season.

Don Schwoll, the Red Sox' rookie right-hander, scattered 10 hits as he registered his ninth victory against only two defeats this season.

The Red Sox widened their to 6-1 in the fifth on Russ Nixon's two-run double. Don Budin's single, a sacrifice by Schilling, and an intentional walk to Geiger preceded Nixon's hit.

In the sixth Boston scored an unearned run when Bubba Phillips muffed Frank Malone's grounder and later in the inning he dropped a throw from Woodie Held which would have nipped Malone at third. Malone scored on Budin's single.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant started for the Indians but was replaced by Bob Allen in the sixth inning. Dick Stigman took over in the seventh after Allen went out for a pinch-hitter.

Richards Says He'll Manage No Other Club

Baltimore Is End Of Line For Him

BALTIMORE (AP) — Paul Richards says he will manage no other club except the Baltimore Orioles.

The Oriole field pilot, leaving open the possibility he might be interested in a general manager's post, called Baltimore "the end of the line for me as a manager."

Richards' statement Tuesday was issued with specific reference to reports he was under consideration for a job as manager of the new Houston entry in the National League, scheduled to begin play in the senior circuit next year.

His contract with the Orioles extends through the 1963 season, but Richards said in the last three years "I have been offered the manager's job by at least seven big league clubs. I turned them all down."

Richards won American League manager of the year honors last year as the youthful Orioles finished second in the pennant race.

"In view of reports I am heading for Houston as manager of the new team there," the Bird boss said. "I think it is time to get some things straightened out."

"I was mentioned a year and a half ago in connection with the managing job at Milwaukee and this year at San Francisco and Detroit," adding:

Turned Down Houston

"When Gabe Paul (now with the Cincinnati Reds) was at Houston, I was offered a fine deal as manager of that club. I turned it down. The present Houston people are aware I turned down the interesting and fantastic proposition."

"Now we keep hearing of Houston and I have told newspapermen and officials of our club that Baltimore was the end of the line for me as a manager."

"The Houston people have not approached me about any job other than manager. It is my belief that the Houston economy could not stand the price I would ask, along with that of a high-priced manager, even if they were interested in my services in any capacity other than manager."

Banks To Undergo Eye Examination

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ernie Banks, Chicago Cubs' slugging shortstop, here for an eye examination, Tuesday said he "felt fine" and could take the field anytime.

Cub officials Monday ordered the lanky Banks back to Chicago from St. Louis for an eye examination. Club spokesmen said Banks has been suffering from impairment of depth perception in the left eye, which has curtailed his efficiency both at bat and in the field.

Said Banks upon his arrival in Chicago: "I feel fine. I'm here for a checkup with doctors. As far as I'm concerned I could play tonight or tomorrow night. But I'll rest by the decision of my doctor."

Lee Miller, who tossed the no-hitter against the Cumberland Optimists earlier this year, suffered his third loss in eight decisions.

A four-run rally in the fifth inning iced the win for the Optimists with six bases on balls and a double by Reynolds highlighting the spurt.

U. S. Trackmen Take 56-50 Lead Over West Germany

Americans Cop Six Of Ten Events

Pole Vaulters Give U.S. Edge; 40,000 Attend Dual Meet

United Press International
STUTTGART, Germany (UPI) — The United States touring track team, somewhat relaxed after its win over Russia and using some substitutes, took only a 56-50 lead Tuesday over West Germany in the first dual track and field meet in 23 years between the two nations.

The U.S. team won six of Tuesday's 10 events, but needed a 1-2 sweep by Henry Wadsworth of Miami, Fla., and John Uelses of Philadelphia in the day's last event, the pole vault, to cement its lead for the day.

American performances before the crowd of 40,000 at Neckar Stadium were generally below what the same Yanks did in Moscow last weekend.

"Some of Tuesday's less than record-breaking performances were primarily caused by the weekend meet in Moscow and the travel to Germany," said U.S. coach Jim Elliott. "They were really up for the Russians, and I have to push them a little bit here."

In addition to the pole vault, the U. S. forces won the 100 meter dash, 400-meter relay, 110-meter high hurdles, discus throw, and 400-meter run. Germany took the 800-meter run, 5,000 meter run, hop-step-and-jump, and hammer throw.

Scores Surprise Sweep
Missing from the U. S. lineup Tuesday were sprinter Paul Drayton of Villanova, out with a pulled muscle, and 800-meter runner Jerry Siebert of the Santa Clara Youth Village, who has a cold.

The top dramatic finish of the day was in the 800-meter run, in which Germany scored a surprise 1-2 sweep. Jim Dupree of Los Angeles, chief U.S. hope with Siebert sidelined, started slowly but shot into the lead with a lap to go and opened up an eight-yard lead.

But then Dupree faded as Paul Schmidt of Germany came on to win in 1:51.3 with Jorge Balke second, Dupree third, and Jim Beatty of the Santa Clara Youth Village, subbing for Siebert, fourth.

Germany went into the final, the pole vault, trailing by only 48-47 in the point after being behind by as much as 11 points early in the program.

Leaps Over 15 Feet
The U.S. pole vaulters weren't as sharp as they were in Moscow either, but Wadsworth took first with a leap of 4.60 meters (15 feet, 1 inch) and Uelses, a Marine sergeant, took second with 4.50 meters (14 feet, 9 inches) and the U.S. team was safely in front for the first day.

Hayes Jones of Pontiac, Mich., won the 110-meter high hurdles in 13.8.

Frank Budd of Villanova won the 100 meters in 10.4 seconds, one-tenth slower than in Moscow. The U.S. 400-meter relay team of Jones, Budd, Charles Frazier of Texas Southern University, and Earl Young of Abilene Christian won in 39.9 seconds, compared to its world record of 39.1 in Moscow.

Young, who was a substitute for Drayton on the relay, also won the 400 meter run in 46.5 seconds.

Lt. Jay Silvester of the U.S. Army and Bob Humphreys of the Southern California Striders scored a 1-2 sweep in the discus throw. Silvester was the winner with a heave of 57.69 meters (189 feet, 2 1/2 inches) and Humphreys was second with 53.19 meters (174 feet, 5 1/2 inches.)

They were champion Yuri Jdanovitch of Russia, runner-up Viti Siskine of Russia, and bronze medalist Albert Axelrod of Scarsdale, N.Y. Manager Walter Growden's Red Sox pulled a stunning upset yesterday in the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League by beating the Cardinals at East Side Field by the score of 7-5.

The defeat knocked the Cards out of first place and the Phillies took over the league leadership by trouncing the Pirates at Constitution Park by the score of 12-2. The Phillies now own a 10-1 record while the Cardinals are 10-2.

By winning yesterday's game, the Red Sox partly atoned for earlier 11-4 and 12-0 beatings at the hands of the Cardinals.

"They'd have to be solid gold," Monday, after a preliminary court hearing on the case, Mays lawyer, Bergen Van Brunt, said Mays had little to show for earning $100,000 in a year. He was quoted as saying that Mrs. Mays had a penchant for $400 shoes and $8,000 minks.

Water Supply Is Sought For Housing Project

Emergency Supply Asked For ABL

Plans for furnishing an ample supply of water for a proposed housing development in Allegany County and additional water for Allegany Ballistics Laboratory were discussed yesterday during a meeting at the Court House.

Members of the Cumberland Industrial Development Company met with representatives of the County Board of Commissioners, County Planning and Zoning Commission and ABL.

John E. Geare, CIDC president, said last night that plans discussed yesterday will again be aired with the County Board of Commissioners during a special meeting which will be held July 26 at 11 a. m. in the Court House.

Will Get Report

John C. Childs, consulting engineer for the Commissioners, who is working on a survey of a proposed water line from Savage River Dam which would provide additional water to the county, will present information at the meeting.

Those in attendance at yesterday's meeting expressed a hope that water supplied from the dam might first be supplied in the vicinity of the housing development which would be built on a portion of the Mason farm, said Mr. Geare.

The housing development, which would be built under the specifications of the Federal Housing Authority, would have to have assurance of an ample water supply as well as adequate sewage facilities.

It is hoped that if the FHA is assured of the water supply the housing development would get under way as soon as possible.

Wants Water

Also desired is an additional water supply for ABL to be used in emergencies. At present, said Mr. Geare, ABL is getting its water supply from five wells in that area.

In its present expansion program, ABL is hiring technical personnel who will require housing and water at the housing project which would be built in conjunction with the ABL expansion program.

Alleviating this problem is the aim of those who met yesterday at the Court House. Those who attended feel the responsibility should rest in the hands of the County Commissioners. Therefore the special meeting on July 26 has been called.

Dr. Robert M. Sparks, chief of business and industrial development for the Department of Economic Development in Maryland, conferred yesterday with Mr. Geare.

The purpose of his visit here was to explore the requirements for Cumberland to qualify under the new Area Development Act passed by Congress this year for the purpose of producing employment in certain areas where unemployment is prevalent.

Discuss Projects

Also discussed were some projects for which financial assistance by the government might be involved. This included the location of an industrial building project and the availability of land for that purpose as well as shipping facilities and public utilities, said Mr. Geare.

Others at yesterday's meeting were John T. Mason, representing the county commissioners; C. M. Sanner, president of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the board of directors of the CIDC; J. Hoffman and Robert Lowstuter, ABL; Joseph Wenrich, Cresaptown Civic Improvement Association; William H. Oburn, vice president of the CIDC, and Albert S. Paye, Cumberland Planning and Zoning Commission chairman.

Students Attend Rotary Meeting

Five foreign exchange students were guests of the Cumberland Rotary Club yesterday at noon.

The students yesterday toured the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7 and then went to the Cumberland Country Club for swimming, tennis, golf and a buffet supper.

Students Get Fill Of Baked Beans

The foreign exchange students got their fill of several of this area's favorite foods during their visit here.

Monday's luncheon featured fish, baked beans and potato salad and the dinner, chicken, potato salad and baked beans.

Those who attended yesterday's Rotary Club luncheon found ham and baked beans on the menu.

The menu was considerably more varied during their afternoon visit and buffet supper at the Cumberland Country Club yesterday.

Commission On Aging Will Meet Thursday

The Allegany County Commission on the Problems of the Aging will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Commissioners room of the Court House.

Rev. Robert Current, chairman, will preside at the business session, when plans will be made for conducting a survey among this county's senior citizens.

Plans for conducting the survey are expected to be discussed at the session.

On Thursday at 1:30 p. m., officers of the commission will meet at the Court House with chairman of Allegany County Lay Health Groups to discuss the survey.

Members of the Lay Health units have expressed a willingness to conduct the survey.

The commission hopes to have some 841 requests from those who wish to be included in the survey. Information sought from those who are over 65 will be completely confidential and no names or addresses will be used on the forms.

Survey forms will be compiled by areas, since it will be important to know the needs of each community or section of the county.

Action Sought In Frostburg Sewer Problem

Officials Meet At Court House

Action in alleviating the sewage problem in Frostburg and adjoining communities was discussed last night when representatives of the Maryland State Department of Health met with the County Sanitary Commission, County Commissioners and city officials of Frostburg.

Acting as spokesman for the health department delegation, James R. McComas expressed a hope that Frostburg and the county unit will work together in a cooperative program.

When informed by Mayor Joseph James that the City of Frostburg is having a survey made by Robert T. Register, Baltimore consulting engineer, Mr. McComas asked him to contact Mr. Register and request a completed report within 90 days.

Mr. McComas said that he and the other representatives at last night's meeting will have to have an answer for the Board of Health the next time any proposed expansion work comes up in Frostburg.

"No Real Progress"

He said that earlier this year the board in good faith, consented to permit Frostburg to start work on a housing project with the commitment that immediate steps would be taken to alleviate the sewage situation.

Playford S. Aldridge, chairman of the sanitary group, pointed out the purpose of the meeting and reported that no real progress had been made in solving the problem by Frostburg and the county unit. He also said Frostburg failed to send representatives to a meeting held earlier this month.

Mayor James pointed out that steps were taken a few years ago to cope with the problem but that a million dollars, needed to construct a sewage disposal plant, could wreck the town's economy.

Monday night the town officials decided to have a survey of the sewage needs made by Mr. Register, and his advice will be accepted in solving the community's problem, said Mayor James.

Survey Recalled

It was pointed out that Mr. Register made a survey in 1957, at which time a price tag of $800,000 was placed on the construction of a sewage disposal plant.

Mayor James said the town officials, in the interest of the citizens, want the most economical and practical system and the officials "want action" toward alleviating the problem.

He said "our group would be only too happy" to go along with plans of the county unit.

Mr. McComas said the Town of Frostburg "can't solve the problem at the city line," and other adjoining communities such as Wrights Crossing and Grahamtown would have to be taken into consideration.

Also, it would be feasible to construct a plant downstream where an ample supply of diluting water would be available and a less costly plant could be constructed. He pointed out that federal and state funds are now available on a pro-rated basis but it is uncertain just how long these funds will be available.

Compromise Seen

It was reported that about a year ago a survey of the George's Creek area was made by Green Associates. Those attending the meeting last night felt that some sort of agreement could be reached on the combined surveys of Green and the one which is being prepared by Mr. Register.

John J. Rowan cited a $10,000 survey which had been prepared for the county. He feels that the county taxpayers should not be burdened with any additional survey expense.

Mr. McComas said it is wrong to delay the project and that Frostburg and the county unit should work together.

The final approval of a sewage disposal system would be up to the State Department of Health.

Other health department officials at the meeting were Raymond W. Ludlow Jr. and W. M. Bingley.

Aside from the three county commissioners present those in attendance included Robert Reinhard and Alvin Rankin of the county sanitary unit, Leslie J. Clark, attorney; Frostburg councilman Herbert Loar, John C. Childs, with an engineering firm now working in connection with a survey of a proposed water line from Savage River dam into the county area, and J. Byron Dowling, senior sanitarian of the County Health Department.

Cumberland Glass Co. Going Out Of Business

Can't Find Glassblowers, Other Craftsmen

Cumberland Glass Company, Maryland's last exclusive manufacturer of handblown glass, is going out of business—a victim of changing times.

The company's five directors voted themselves and 45 employees out of work at a meeting Monday night because glassblowers and other skilled workers can't be found.

George W. Hickie, manager of the company's plant in Mt. Savage, broke the news to employees yesterday morning. The plant will cease operations at the end of the working day July 28.

The company now has five glassblowers, needs six to operate at capacity, and hasn't been able to hire one after looking in six states for several months. Two of the present glassblowers are due for retirement this fall. Another is 72 years old and still working.

"Glassblowing is a dying art," said Mr. Hickie. "You just don't find glassblowers because they aren't being trained."

Founded In 1932

The company, formed in 1932 by a group of unemployed glass workers, soon became successful and grew to its present size with orders from dealers all over the country.

In September 1956, fire destroyed the company's factory in LaVale. The firm reopened in the old C&P railroad shops at Mt. Savage the following January, and has done a bustling business ever since.

But about a year ago Charles Appel retired as a glassblower, remaining a director of the company. This left the company with only five blowers, and nobody could find a replacement for Mr. Appel. With two others due for retirement, the firm soon would have only three blowers.

In addition, it's also difficult to find gathering boys — men who gather molten glass for the blowers — and foot-setters, who prepare the stems for glasses.

Couldn't Find Workers

The local office of the Department of Employment Security couldn't find the necessary skilled workers, even after asking for help from the employment security departments of six neighboring states.

Now the company is due to replace its melting furnace. This $3,000 item burns out about every six months under normal wear and must be replaced.

The directors, meeting Monday night, decided not to make the additional outlay when there seemed no prospect of getting enough skilled employee to operate the plant at capacity.

Four original stockholders are still with the company. They are Mr. Hickie's father, George D. Hickie, president; Eugene Brant, Louis Hoffman and Daniel Chase.

Directors are George D. Hickie, Frank Gaglian, vice president; Charles W. Yergan, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Appel, and the manager, George W. Hickie.

21 Countians Attend State PTA Meeting

Twenty-one Allegany County PTA members took part in a two-day summer conference of the Maryland Conference of Parents and Teachers at Towson State Teachers College over the weekend.

Mrs. B. R. Lewis, president of the Allegany County Council of PTA, was a member of a panel on cooperation between PTA councils and school boards, moderated by Mrs. Ellen Del Bieler, field service worker of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Lester B. Reed of Mt. Savage was in charge of one of the 10 section meetings which were held at the conference. Her workshop was on publications.

The conference, held to train new officers and PTA leaders before the school term, also included a discussion by Mrs. Bieler on schools of instruction for county PTA workers.

Attending from Allegany County, besides Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Reed, were Mrs. Phyllis Nicol and Mrs. Leah Marsh of Central Elementary PTA; Mrs. Godetta Bowman, Centre Street; Mrs. Eleanor Umstot, Penn Avenue; Mrs. Virginia Moreland and Mrs. Edna Cessna, Cresaptown; Miss Sabra Isam and Mrs. Joyce Growden, Virginia Avenue; Mrs. Virginia Miller and Mrs. Maxine Rice, Corriganville; Guy Mallow of Hill Street; Mrs. Gertrude Grove and Mrs. Mildred Fazenbaker, Westernport Elementary; Mrs. Dorothy Michael, Miss Agness Laughlin and Mrs. William Pleasant, Bruce High; Mr. and Mrs. James Engle, Beall Elementary; and Neil Smith, Johnson Heights.

Firemen Called To Lamont Street

Hardy County Jury To Get Murder Case

Testimony Ends In Miley Trial

Testimony in the trial of Junior Brown Miley, one of five men charged with conspiring to prevent giving aid to a mortally wounded person, was completed yesterday afternoon in Hardy County Circuit Court at Moorefield, W. Va.

The case involves the murder of Eldridge Ritter, 33, a Stephens City, Va. salesman, who died on July 14 last year.

The petit jury consisting of eight men and four women are expected to get the case about 11 a. m. today.

After instructions are given to the jurors by Judge H. Gus Muntzing this morning, closing arguments by the prosecuting attorneys and counsel for the defendant will be presented.

It will be a two-part meeting with a workshop scheduled at 10 a. m. for chapter personnel interested in training for the blood program.

Mrs. Harry Beneman, a director of the Johnstown Blood Center and blood chairman for Allegany chapter, will attend a director's meeting while the workshop is in progress.

A luncheon break will be taken at the Westmont Dairy Dell.

In the afternoon, the annual regional blood committee meeting will be held. The agenda includes reports of 1960-61 hospital participation; reports and plans for 1961-62 program; report of blood program sessions from the national Red Cross convention; awards and election of officers.

Mrs. Betty S. Vizi, Johnstown center administrator, will be in charge of the day's program.

Attending from here are Mrs. Beneman, Mrs. Irving Millenson, staff aid chairman; Robert Little, Elbert, chapter chairman; Miss Christine Williams, chairman of nursing service; Mrs. John Lohnas, blood recruitment chairman; Mrs. Duard Little, Mrs. Virginia Breighner, Mrs. John B. Stevens, Mrs. W. E. Channell, Mrs. Norman Geatz Sr., chapter treasurer; Mrs. Wilbur Hudson and Mrs. Lindsay.

Nine witnesses took the stand yesterday during the second day of the trial. Yesterday afternoon Pete Bierkamp testified that Miley had purchased intoxicants from him at 1:30 a. m. and 5:30 a. m. the day the salesman was killed.

Eugene Hunt, who lives in the vicinity of the Rexroad Garage, testified that he was awakened early the morning of July 14 by a commotion in the vicinity of the garage.

Kenny Vance testified that he overheard a conversation by one of the defendants in the case, although he had not been at the scene of the fight.

Testifying yesterday morning were Nolan Shreve, James McLaughlin, D. L. Fitzwater, John Rexroad and Mabel Cleaver.

The state made a surprise move yesterday when it requested the trial of Wilson C. Zirk on conspiracy be set aside on the basis that Paul Tallent, who was foreman of the jury, had previously accepted a subpoena as a character witness for Zirk in the original case last December.

Zirk was acquitted of conspiracy but a jury in December deadlocked on a murder charge. The state pointed out that Tallent did not appear for the defense after he was drawn as a juror, but served as foreman of the jury.

Judge Muntzing is expected to rule on the motion following the current trials.

Firm Asks FPC To OK Purchase Of Gas Field

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Shreveport, La., Tuesday asked Federal Power Commission permission to buy a 34,000-acre Accident, Md., natural gas field from four Pennsylvania gas operators.

The owners are William C. Snee, Orville Eberly, Robert Eberly and L. N. Murray.

An FPC spokesman said that before the purchase can be authorized, Texas Eastern must retain approval of Columbia Gas of Maryland.

In its application Texas Eastern said it could maintain an adequate supply of gas for Columbia Gas, whose contract for purchase of gas from the Accident field expires May 1, 1962.

Texas Eastern said it would use the Accident field both as a source of natural gas and as a storage for gas transmitted from the southwest.

Texas Eastern also asked permission to build 27 miles of 6½-inch pipeline from the Accident field to connect with its main transmission line at Richwood. Estimated cost of the project would be $1,200,000.

The Accident field has 40,300,000 cubic feet of proven natural gas reserves, the FPC spokesman said. There are 18 producing wells.

On Insurance Unit

Thomas F. Conlon and Henry K. Duke of Cumberland have been named members of the Western Maryland Council on Insurance Education by F. Douglass Sears, state insurance commissioner.

The newly-formed council will assist in the organization of a fire and casualty insurance course in an institution of higher learning as a beginning project.

Under a new state law, beginning insurance agents must successfully complete such a course before taking the state examination.
